

Our services are customized to make documenting a legacy fun and easy. Whether for yourself or someone you know, we've developed a process designed to put you in complete control of your project, which means the end product will be flawlessly personalized and unique. There's simply no parallel to the rewarding experience of producing a Memoria Films dvd.

There are 3 stages to making this film. And Memoria Films is here to help you every step of the way. The first stage is deciding which package you want (provided below). Then our crew will come and interview the legacy at a time convenient for everyone. Before proceeding to the last step, we'll provide a copy of the footage shot with time-code. Based on the package selected and the stories that were told, You will use this footage to decide what pictures and videos you'd like featured in the film and even what segments of the interview you'd like to use and where.
